Forwarding, backstepping, and finite spectrum assignment ...

The nonlinear control ideas and results of forwarding and backstepping have been recently extended to systems with time delay. In this paper we discuss how to apply these tools to design robust controls for linear delay systems. Finite spectrum assignment for linear systems with non ...

1. Introduction. In general, a linear time-delay system has an infinite number of eigenvalues. Finite spectrum assignment is one of the well-known control methods for such an infinite-dimensional plant and was first developed by Manitius and Olbrot (1979), where feedback control is used to eliminate delay operators from the characteristic Finite-Spectrum Assignment for Time-Delay Systems ...

The presence of considerable time delays in many industrial processes is well recognized and achievable performances of conventional unity feedback control systems are degraded if a process has a relatively large time delay compared to its time constants.

An alternative scheme for delay elimination from the closed-loop is the finite spectrum assignment (FSA) strategy and it can arbitrarily assign the closed-loop spectrum. One may note that the Smith Predictor Control can be found in delay systems control books and many process control books, but the FSA control is rarely included in these books. It is therefore timely and desirable to fill
